RACE PATRONAGE AND PRIDE

The play, "For His People," being presented at the Booker Washington Theatre this week, is a strong lesson in race pride and patronage. It is particularly interesting to us because the scene is laid in the Argus office. It portrays our policy, our strife against obstacles, our hope for ultimate success as the champion of Negro advancement. It shows that we have a great future, and the time will soon be at hand when Ethiopia shall stretch forth her hands to God. We must take off our hats to Mr. Turpin. Nothing but race pride could have inspired him to stage this drama. It can have but one purpose—the advancement of colored people. It dates the beginning of a revolution that will soon become widespread in this city and the nation, and will cause a combination of men and dollars in enterprises that will soon place the Negro on the high road to financial success.

PUT THE MOB DOWN

A Negro was lynched January 18, 1916, at Buckville, Ark., for slapping a small white boy. After the mob had disposed of the Negro in its brutal and summary way, it burned down the Negro schoolhouse. Why did the mob burn down the schoolhouse? Because, one may suppose, school education prepares the Negro for resistance, whether coming from white or colored, and causes one to denounce all forms of lawlessness.

Such items as this one—lynching a Negro and burning down a Negro schoolhouse—are of such common occurrence that they barely get a paragraph in our daily papers. If a Negro is burned alive, he may get two paragraphs, but no better denunciation in editorial comment. Should such a horror be perpetrated on the battle-flags of the bloodiest war of history, now raging in Europe, our great American press would go wild in denouncing the barbarity, but if a Negro is hanged in a pine box, saturated with coal oil and burned to a crisp in Mississippi, the news columns will tell the story simply, and the editorial page be as silent as death on this bit of Southern pastime.

It is indifference to the mob, this callousness to crime, this tolerance to race hatred, that has emboldened the Ku Klux to resurrect in Southeast Missouri and start once more on their night ride for murder and arson. So the news comes from down around New Madrid, the hotbed of Negro lynching and banishment, that the night-riders are in the middle. It is like the Ku Klux Klan, a secret organization of oath-bound assassins, only now their idea is to kill die white men instead of poor Negroes; to burn white factories and mills instead of Negro churches and schoolhouses; to burn down towns and make white families shelterless instead of driving the Negro population out of the town like they did at Pierce City.

The mob in the South has grown and fattened on Negro blood, and now it threatens the business and comfort of the white man.

The state as well as the nation must take the mob in hand and punish it, whether it lynches a Negro or burns down a factory.

THE ENEMY WITHIN

The disgraceful scenes at Youngstown, Ohio, indicate that there is an enemy within our borders greater than all the foreign foes that might be raised against us. The drunken mob that fires towns, shoots up streets, kills and wounds innocent residents, and surges forth like the uncivilized tribes of history's darkest days is a greater menace to our nation than anything in the whole realm of our affairs. It was a mob that ruined Rome, that tore Carthage, that desecrated France. It was a mob that forced Italy into the greatest of all wars. It is the mob spirit that marks the first evidence of decay, for the religion of the mob is death.

The Ohio outrage calls for the most drastic action. This mob spirit must be crushed. National security will be jeopardized until all Americans learn that the mob reeks of savagery and barbarism. —The St. Louis Times.

THE CASE AGAINST THE INITIATIVE LAW OF THE CHARTER

The loss of the case against the Initiative Law of the city charter is not a decision, that has any bearing whatever on the constitutionality of the proposed segregation law, as some people seem to think. This test was upon the Initiative provision of the present city charter, under which the proposed segregation election is to be held.

The Local Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has already made plans looking towards the testing out in the United States Court the constitutionality of the proposed segregation law, should the same carry at the election to be held February 20.

The case of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against the Initiative Law recently argued before Judge Shields will be appealed at once to the Supreme Court of the State of Missouri, and we are appealing to the people not only to assist us in this effort, but also to co-operate with us in every possible way in making the campaign for a victory at the polls. The immense registration of January 13 was indeed gratifying, but our work along that line is not yet completed. We must see to it that every voter casts his ballot on election day, and also that a sufficient number of white persons are interested in the matter that they too will get out and vote to keep this nefarious ordinance off of the statute books. This is a battle not only for the people of St. Louis, but for the people everywhere, and nothing short of the greatest possible effort should be made to keep alive that principle which was established fifty years ago by the blood of hundreds of thousands, that this country cannot exist "half slave and half free." —St. Louis Branch National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Injunction Denied Orphan Home Report

It must be held void, and the question is whether or not it is "in harmony with and subject to the Constitution and laws of the State."
The people of the State delegated the power to the people of the City to make a Charter for their own government without any restrictions, except it should be in harmony with the laws and Constitution of the State. The Board of Freeholders and the City electorate exercised their power and after voting for the election of such "house of legislation" in their Charter of 1914, enacted certain provisions limiting the power of the municipal assembly.
The Constitution does not expressly confer any particular power on the Board of Aldermen, much less exclusive power as contended for by plaintiffs, but leaves these questions entirely to the people of such City.
I find no provision in either the laws or the Constitution of the State with which the Initiative provision of the Charter is not "in harmony," and having been adopted by the people in accordance with the terms of the Constitution it is valid and binding on the people of St. Louis. If the Initiative provision of the Charter is read in connection with the Initiative provision of the Constitution, it would be found that the Initiative is in absolute harmony, the only difference being that one applies to the whole State and all the people, whereas the other applies to only a subdivision of the State and a part of the people of the State.
I have no doubt, then, that the Initiative provision of the Charter is valid, and that under it the people of St. Louis have a right to exact obedience for their own government.
The demurrer that the petition does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action must be sustained, temporary injunction refused, the rule to show cause discharged, and the plaintiffs be dismissed.

VOTERS ORDERED TO APPEAR REVISION DAY, FEBRUARY 4

On account of the heavy Negro registration January 13, the Election Commissioners chain freed and have issued notices for a majority of those who registered to appear at the polls on revision day, February 4, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 10 p. m., and show cause why their names should not be dropped from the list. Everyone who received notice should be sure to appear in order to vote against segregation, February 29. All voters who were more than 50 miles away, or were sick on registration day, should go to the office of the Election Commissioners, in the city hall, at once, and have their names entered.

CHAS. K. COHEN

St. Louis, Mo., January 20, 1916.

To Editor St. Louis Argus:

Dear Sir:
I notice, appearing in some of our daily papers a vile and large article written by Mr. Charles K. Cohen, 2507 Easton Ave., a German Hebrew by nationality, in which he denounces the segregation movement, and takes issue with the remedy of the movement, upon the ground that it is discriminatory in its effect as being unfair and unjust to the Negro citizens of this city. The article in my opinion creates the impression that if the Negroes can be segregated then for the same reason and upon the same ground the Jews can be segregated. It seems to me that Mr. Cohen can be of great benefit to us if he will, in the manner in which presents the question to his friends and fellow citizens in opposition to this measure. I see that the temporary injunction has been denied and the election will be held to vote in this measure; therefore I feel that we need every available vote we can get, and think it would be advisable to confer with Mr. Cohen or have him confer with the campaign committee relative to assisting in the campaign.
Thanking you in advance for the publication of this letter, I remain, Yours very truly,
E. H. Taylor.
